Sandra a kertben van, amikor megérkezik Michelle könyvet olvasva. Annyira elmerült az olvasásban, hogy szinte alvajáróként közlekedik. Sandra kérdően néz rá.

Michelle (magában): I knew it! It couldn't have been different...
 (megbotlik egy faldarabban)

Sandra: Watch out! Did you hurt yourself? You should watch where you're going.

Michelle (miközben felkel a földről): Oh no! I'm used to walking into things. You know I'm a bit absent minded. When I was a kid I was always falling over. I was always covered in bruises. Excuse me now... (fogja a könyvet és ismét olvasni kezd teljesen elmélyedve. Magában beszél)...
 The first full moon of the summer! Just wonderful!

Sandra (továbbra is kérdően néz Michelle-re): What's the full moon got to do with anything? Come on, please, tell me what you're reading...

Michelle: It's just a beautiful love story full of passion. It's a love story between a young lady of the nobility and a farmer. The girl's father wants her to marry a lord and is against the relationship.

So he arranges to have the young farmer kidnapped and locked away in a secret room to die of hunger and thirst.

Sandra: What a sad story... Isn't it rather depressing?

Michelle: Well, wait a minute, I haven't finished. The kidnapping happened on the first full moon of the summer, just a moment before the two lovers had arranged to meet. Legend says that every year on that night the young girl returns to look for her lover! Do you see?!

Sandra: What should I see? It's a legend! Don't tell me I should believe in such a stupid thing!

Michelle: Well, on the contrary, I think you should! This is the interesting part! This love story took place here, in this house! And tonight there's the first full moon of the summer! This is so exciting! I know this holiday would bring some pleasant surprises!

Sandra: You must be mad! By the way, where on earth did you find that book?

Michelle: Up in the attic! It must have been written by one of Paolo's ancestors! If I'd known that room contained treasures like this book, I've locked myself in there for the whole holiday!

Sandra: You shouldn't go nosying around everywhere, Michelle!

Michelle: And you should leave me alone, then! I'm going to get the others together now. We'll devise a plan for tonight, so we can look for the young girl's ghost.

Sarah és Paolo a medencénél vannak. Megérkezik Michelle és Sandra.

Paolo: Hey Sarah! Look a flip!

Michelle: Hello!?

Sarah: Hello!

Michelle: I'm glad you're here.

Sarah: We've been here since noon.

Michelle: I've made an incredible discovery!

Sarah: What's this about?

Sandra: Well... According to Michelle this house is home to the spirit of a young girl. And this young girl is going to appear to us tonight as a ghost.

Michelle: Don't make fun! It's true, I read it in the book I found at home. And I can feel it too, there's a strange atmosphere, almost surreal!

Sarah: I think the only strange thing here is you!

Sandra: That's exactly what I said!

Michelle: Enough of that! Listen to me! This is the plan for tonight: when the moon's high in the sky we'll get some candles and go and look for the ghost. Paolo, didn't you know anything about this story?

Paolo: Well, my grandfather did tell me something about it. When I was a boy I used to go looking for spirits with my cousins.

Sandra: Didn't you feel frightened?

Paolo: No, it was a great fun!

Sarah: Sure... Everyone knows ghosts don't exist.

Paolo: You're wrong there! One night we heard some strange noises... Someone was shouting! We were so scared! We ran to our rooms, my youngest cousin cried for two days, he was so terrified.

Sarah: What rubbish! I think you've just invented the whole story!

Michelle: Stop arguing! Paolo and I are going to look for the ghost tonight. Sandra, are you coming with us?

Sandra: I don't really believe in these things but if you're both going... Well... Why not? It'll be a bit of change from the other evenings. And, by the way, I'm quite curious to find out whether this ghost really exists or not.

Michelle: Sarah, are you coming with us?

Sarah: Oh no! I don't believe in spirits and I don't do such stupid things. I'll just stay in my room and read.

Michelle: Come on Sarah, don't be the usual spoilsport! Come with us! You'll see, it'll be fun!

Sarah: Don't-insist! I said no! (elmegy).

Paolo: That damn pub! She wouldn't be like this if it hadn't burned down!

Michelle: I know, you're right! Let's try not to let her problems get us down! Sandra, can you call Mike and Anne and we'll tell them what's the plan for tonight!

(Sandra elmegy, Paolo énekelni kezd.)

Paolo: "Ghost hunting under a full moon".

That's life!
Ghost hunting

This place is really creepy

1. JELENET

Éjszaka van. A fiatalok, Sarah-t kivéve, arra készülődnek, hogy megkeressék a szellemet. Egyikük kezében elemlámpa van.

Mike: So, this is the abandoned wing...

Paolo: Yes.

Anne: I should never got involved in this charade! I still can't believe you persuaded me to come along.

Paolo: Come on, Anne, you'll have fun! You won't regret.

Mike: Can anyone tell me exactly what it is we're looking for?

Michelle: Mike! Do you ever listen when people talk to you? We're looking for the ghost of a young girl. Legend says that when the full moon's high in the sky she returns here to look for her young lover. She walks up and down the secret spot where she used to meet him.

Sandra: And where is this secret spot?

Michelle: Well, we don't know, but Paolo told me that last year he'd heard strange sounds coming from this house. We can start from here.

Anne: Where "here"? How can we possibly if we can't see anything in the dark?!

Paolo: Don't worry! I know this place very well!

Michelle: Ok silence! Otherwise we are not going to hear anything!

(Egyszerre kiabálnak.)

Anne: Did anyone ask Sarah if she wanted to come along with us?

Paolo: Of course we did. She isn't interested... She doesn't believe in ghosts.

Mike: You still should have insisted. It's not nice to leave her by herself at night...

Michelle: Can we please start searching again?

(Csendben mennek előre, egymás mellett. Egyszer csak Anne felkiált.)

Anne: Ahh! Help, there's somebody here!

(Rémülten megállnak, majd megfordulnak és körbenéznek.)

Mike: I don't see anything! Are you sure?

Anne: Someone touched me on my shoulder! Yes I'm sure! They squeezed my shoulder.

Paolo: It's me!

Anne: What an idiot! Paolo!

Michelle: Ok! Now that we've solved that mystery, silence everyone and let's continue!

Paolo: To be honest, this place is kind of...

Michelle: Creepy?

Paolo: Creepy, yes!

Anne: Guys, guys wait for us!

Sandra: Please!

Ghost (elváltoztatott hangon): Who's come to disturb my eternal sleep??

Sandra: Oh crikey!! I'm not feeling very well! I think I'm going to faint!

Michelle: Shut up! (majd a szellemhez fordul) Now... We... We read about you. And we... We want to get to know you!

Ghost: I don't like intruders! Do you know what happens to the people who cross my path?

Paolo: What... What happens?

Ghost: A horrible death! You must choose between being burnt alive or being eaten by wolves.

Anne: Oh, my God! Listen Miss Lady ghost, I think there must be some misunderstanding here. We're all going to leave now, and let you look for your lover in peace and quiet. Right everyone? (el akar menni).

Ghost: Don't move an inch! It's too late. Your fate has been decided.

Sandra (térdre veti magát): I beg you, please don't kill us... I didn't even want to come! They forced me to come with them!

Ghost: Be quiet! Now, all of you close your eyes and put your hands up in the air.

(Félelemtől remegve szó szerint követik a szellem parancsát).

Ghost: And now... (a szellem hangos nevetésben tör ki) Ah! Ah! Ah!

(A szellem tovább nevet, a srácok kinyitják a szemüket és látják Sarah-t egy lepedővel a kezében.)

Paolo: Sarah...!

Michelle: So you were the ghost?!

Sarah (nevetve): Yes! I was in my room reading when I thought of dressing up and scaring all of you. And I must admit it was worth it! You don't know how funny you all looked. Your faces white with fear and your voices pleading for mercy... I've never had so much fun!

Anne: Yes, but you gave us all a big shock!

Paolo: Yes, but if it's made the old Sarah come back, then long live ghosts! (mindenki nevet)

Television Programmes

Kitchen: Table setting

Nancy: Welcome to "Cooking Today"! Hi, Lisa. Good to see you.

Lisa: Good to see you again, Nancy.

Nancy: Lisa, tell us what you're going to talk about this time.

Lisa: I've chosen a letter in particular, I've received so many! Here we are. It comes from Lynn: "Dear Lisa, you're the person I most admire in my life, please help me! My husband has decided to invite his boss and wife for dinner, and I've no idea how to arrange a formal table setting!".

Nancy: Husbands can be so insensitive.

Lisa: Well, dear Lynn, you don't need bone china, silverware or crystal to set an attractive table!

Nancy: Where does one begin?

Lisa: I'd start with a table covering. The ideal tablecloth for formal dinners is a damask one, or a cloth with delicate embroidery.

Nancy: Can it be placed over a bare table?

Lisa: You'd better place a protective padded cloth underneath.

Nancy: What do you think about place mats?

Lisa: They're acceptable for every occasion except formal dinners!

Nancy: And table runners, aren't they pretty?

Lisa: They are, and very trendy nowadays, since they come in a wide range of colours!

Nancy: Now, tell us about napkins.

Lisa: They're usually sold as a coordinated set with tablecloths.

Nancy: She's not supposed to use paper napkins, I suppose.

Lisa: Oh, it's considered a bit crass! You can use paper napkins for picnics.

Nancy: Is a napkin ring necessary?

Lisa: Why not? In the past each family member would have one, either of wood or engraved silver. Today they're available in many materials and styles.

Nancy: Now, what about dinnerware?

Lisa: I think that a set of one-colour dishes would be very smart. Round plain plates, a side plate and serving dishes are perfect.

Nancy: What about glassware?

Lisa: The best for formal dinners is a long stemmed goblet of medium height. Lynn will need a wine glass, a water glass and a flute for champagne.

Nancy: And cutlery? How do you arrange forks and knives?

Lisa: Forks are placed to the left of the plate, spoons and knives to the right, with the blade facing the plate. At the top of the plate you'd place dessert forks and spoons. Of course, carving forks and knives are necessary when serving roasts.

Nancy: I see. How do you feel about centrepieces?

Lisa: Well, a basket filled with fresh flowers would smarten the plainest of tables! You can also use candles.

Nancy: It's a real work of art!

Lisa: Yes! And a pretty setting makes food taste better.

Nancy: Thank you Lisa for this informative chat.

Lisa: It was a pleasure.

Let's talk: E-commerce; business on the Internet

Eric: It's the new frontier of retailing! It's revolutionised the way we do business and it brings in customers from all over the world! Of course I'm talking about e-commerce. I'm Eric Brown and this is "Let's talk", the discussion programme with our commentators Tom and Marie.

Marie: Good evening everyone.

Tom: Good evening.

Eric: Well, what are your thoughts on e-commerce? Do you buy things online?

Marie: Of course I do! I always book low cost flights and I also buy DVDs and books on the Internet. As most people do, I shop online not only for the convenience, but also to pay the lowest price possible on any given item. I used to visit different websites to shop around for the lowest price, but now that automatic comparison shopping is possible my browser automatically shows me the prices for the same DVD at different online stores on the web. I can easily compare prices and choose which one to buy.

Eric: Marie, did you know that you're a typical online shopper? In fact 52% of online shoppers buy books, 41% buy leisure and travel items (including holidays and flights) and 40% buy DVDs and CDs.

Marie: Well Eric, online shopping is very popular today. In the UK, for example, 48% of people regularly shop on the Internet. Did you know that economists put the value of online shopping in the UK at £2.26 billion and that the e-retail market is growing by 32% a year?

Eric: Actually, that doesn't surprise me! E-commerce is having a huge impact on the way we do business. It's increasing markets, improving efficiency and effectiveness and is transforming business processes. Tom, why are you so quiet? What do you think about e-commerce?

Tom: Well, to tell you the truth I'm very sceptical about e-commerce, for many reasons.

Eric: Why exactly are you sceptical?

Tom: Well, let's start with the issue of security! Credit card details can be stolen and it's possible to order goods from bogus companies, ones that don't really exist. There are also lots of scams to trick people into handing over their login details for online banking and then their accounts are emptied.

Eric: So, according to you, buying things online is risky?

Tom: Yes, also you can't be sure you'll get the goods you ordered and if there's something wrong with them, who pays for the goods to be returned? You do!

Marie: Tom, I agree with you but up to a certain point. There are some problems with e-commerce, but these problems aren't stopping people from spending more and more online. At the same time e-commerce has many advantages for business people.

Eric: Could you explain some of these advantages, Marie?

Marie: Well, it's cheaper for a retailer to set up a website than it is to rent a shop, fit it out and pay someone to work there. Besides, a website has global reach, so customers can come from all over the world.

Eric: Ok, ok! An interesting discussion but I'm afraid yet again we've run out of time! Once again I'd like to thank our commentators.

Marie and Tom: Thank you!

Eric: And goodbye to everyone; and see you again next week for another edition of "Let's talk".
