That's life! It's not like you think!

Would somebody explain what's going on?

Éjszaka van. Edward és Anne a nappaliban találkoznak a sötétben. Hallatszik, hogy Edward bort tölt a poharakba.

Anne: Uh-uh...

Edward: Anne!

Anne: Hi...

Edward: I'm so happy you've accepted my invitation.

Anne: What a strange voice you have! I almost wouldn't have recognised you.

Edward: It's the thrill! You can't imagine how I've longed for this moment!

Anne: Oh, really. You don't say... To be truthful, I'm rather emotional myself.

Edward: Oh, I'm glad you feel that way!

Anne: Slow down boy, I really don't want to wake the others.

Edward: Oh, the others... Never mind! Who cares if they find out...

Anne: Well, actually, I'd rather they didn't... You know how I am... I'm shy and reserved.

Edward: Oh, what a pity! I know... And that's why I'm crazy about you... Reserved with the others, but you're a tiger when it comes to what you want!

Anne: Come again!?

Edward: Oh, you know exactly what I'm speaking about...

Anne: Let's light a candle, I want to see your face! (Meggyújt egy gyertyát és a fénynél észreveszi, hogy Edward-dal van. Kiabálni kezd) Edward?! What are you doing here?!

Edward: Anne! It's me... Don't worry! Our date, you don't remember? You're a little nervous... Come here, baby (megpróbálja megölelni).

Anne (kiabál és megpróbál kiszabadulni): Oh! Let go of me! Don't you dare touch me! You should be ashamed of yourself!

(Alice lép be a nappaliba és felkapcsolja a villanyt.)

Alice: Hey, what's going on in here? (Meglátja Edwardot és Anne-t.) Edward? Anne! Now I understand everything! Thanks a lot, Anne! What a great friend you are! What an idiot I was to confide in you!

Anne: No really, Alice! It's not like you think!

Alice: And what am I supposed to think then? It seems pretty clear to me!

Anne: No really! Let me explain! I thought it would be... I thought it would be Jack!

Edward: What does Jack have to do with it? Why did you leave me this note in my napkin the other day?

Alice: Edward! It was me who wrote you that note! I can't believe you don't get it!

Anne (Edward-hoz fordul): The poetry... And the roses... That was you?

Edward: Sorry about that... I thought... (Mindkét lány felé fordul.) I'm so sorry!

Alice: What an amateur you are, Edward! (Elmegy.)

(Másnap reggel Jack a nappaliban újságot olvas. Anne lép be bosszús arckifejezéssel.)

Jack: Hey, Anne!

Anne: Hi.

Jack: Have you read the paper? There's an article about Peter. Our singer's become famous!

Anne: No, I haven't read it. To tell you the truth, I'm really not interested!

Jack: What a pity! It's very interesting! (Belép Alice, ő is nagyon dühös.) Hey Alice! Hi Alice. Take a peek at the paper... There's an article about Peter.

Alice (szarkasztikusan): Whoopee! Glad to hear it! (Halkan.) Who cares?

Jack: What fun you girls are! It's quite a pleasure to hang out with you! (Ebben a pillanatban megérkezik Edward, és látszik, hogy ő is mérges.) Edward, at least you'll be interested. Would you like to read this article about our friend Peter?

Edward: Actually, I wouldn't, Jack.

Jack: Would somebody explain what's going on? I have never seen so many long faces...

Edward: You and your expert advice! (Kimegy a szobából.)

Jack: What's eating him? Has he gone stark raving mad?

Anne: No Jack, I've gone stark raving mad! Yet again I've played the fool! What an idiot! (Mérgesen kimegy.)

Jack (kérdőn néz Alice-ra): Okay Alice, at least you'll explain what's going on, I'm in the dark here!

Alice: It's a long story, Jack. A horrible mess! And it all began with a misunderstanding...

Jack: Now, I'm all ears. Go on, Alice. Do tell!

That's life! Opportunity knocks

You are going to be the stars!

A konyhában Anne dühösen sikálja a tűzhelyet. Belép Jack.

Jack: Hi, Anne, have you got a minute? I...

Anne: Hi Jack!

Jack: I'd like to have a word...

Anne: You've probably already heard the sordid story...

Jack: Yes! Listen, Anne...

Anne (félbeszakítja): No, I want you to listen Jack! You've probably had a good laugh on my behalf! Now, that said, I'd prefer no further comments on the story!

Jack: It is not my intention to make fun of you, Anne! Although I must admit the whole "misunderstanding" was rather amusing!

Anne: Great! And now, pretty, please... Let's not talk about it any more!

Jack: I would like to have a word about it. What I'm about to say is sure to surprise you.

Anne: Nothing's bound to surprise me anymore, Jack! Anyway, listen. Don't worry. You don't have to explain! I know how things are. I know that you like me... But just as a friend... A friend that...

Jack: Listen, Anne...

Anne (félbeszakítja): Well, maybe, if we met at some other time...

Jack: Anne! Excuse me...

Anne (ismét félbeszakítja): ... Things would have gone differently... And then... Well, perhaps... Blah-blah-blah!

Jack: Anne, can I speak for one minute, please?

Anne (megnyugszik és abbagyja a takarítást): Yes. Certainly, Jack!

Jack: Thank you.

Anne: Go right ahead.

Jack: Now... You know how... How I suffered about Sharon... And... After her I... I didn't think I'd ever feel anything about another woman... But then... You came back from your holiday and... And I started to feel better... I don't think about Sharon so much...

Anne: What are you getting at, Jack?

Jack: Anne, it was... It was because of you that I've managed to forget about Sharon!

Anne: Well, that's what friends are for, n'est pas?

Jack: You really don't get it, do you?

Anne: Get what, Jack? (ismét beleveti magát a takarításba.)

Jack: Anne... (Lefogja a kezét.) Anne! I'm trying to tell you that... I'm in love with you! I didn't wanna believe that at first. I, I... I thought I was attracted to you because I felt so alone in the world. And... But, then, this feeling grew. And... And when Alice told me about Edward... I realized that it should have been me to bring you those flowers!

Anne: Jack, if this is some kind of a joke, it's not very amusing!

Jack: No, no, no! It's the truth! I swear... We were made for each other... I should have realized that sooner... I'm sorry... (El akar menni.)

Anne (visszahívja): Jack! (Mosolyog, Jack visszafordul és megcsókolják egymást.)

(Ezután Edward mindenkit behív a nappaliba. Anne, Jack és Alice a díványon ülnek. Edward velük szemben áll.)

Jack: So, Edward, are you going to explain why you called us all here today? What's so urgent?

Edward: Well, listen. Something marvellous has happened to say the least!

Alice (ironikusan): I must say I'm a little unsure about what you term "marvellous"!

Edward: Let's put aside our differences, Alice! We should all be happy today! (Csörög a mobilja.) Oh! Just a moment. (Felveszi a telefont.) Yes? Oh, great, great... Don't worry, they're certain to accept... I've already spoken with the group... Yeah. (Jack-hez, Anne-hoz és Alice-hez fordul.) They're bound to be here any moment... (A telefonba.) Yeah... We'll be sure to get the details later... Bye bye. (Leteszi a telefont.)

Anne: Edward, do you plan on telling us what's going on?

Edward: Well, you all remember that I was in touch with a producer to propose what I've filmed with you in this house?

Jack: Yes, and?

Edward: He ate it up! He loved you all, the house, your daily gossip, your relationships... (Csöngetnek.) Oh, great, they've already arrived... Excuse me for a moment, I'll get it... (Kimegy a szobából. Anne, Alice és Jack kérdően néznek egymásra.)

Anne: Who's arrived?

Alice: Uh?!

(Edward visszajön a nappaliba egy férfival és két operatőrrel).

Edward: Come, come in, come in... This way...

Anne: Edward, what's going on? Who are these people?

Edward (izgatott hangon): Hold on now... Mr Martin, the producer, (rámutat az egyik férfira) has accepted my proposal... We're going to make some TV shows! Here! And you... You are going to be the stars! You're bound to become famous! And I've already come up with a title... "At Home with Anne!". What do you think?!

Anne - Alice - Jack (elkeseredetten): Oh my God!!!

Television Programmes

Sport: Wimbledon

Eric: The tennis tournament that for many years insisted players wear only white. The tournament where the game's played on grass and where tradition is a key ingredient. Of course I'm talking about Wimbledon. Good evening, I'm Eric Brown and here in the studio with me to tell us more about this famous championship is John Forbes, our sports expert. Welcome John.

John: Good evening Eric and hello everyone.

Eric: So John, can you tell us just why Wimbledon is by far the world's most prestigious tennis tournament?

John: Well, Eric, the world's first international tournament took place at Wimbledon. Today of course there are many international tournaments, but Wimbledon has managed to retain a special place in the hearts of tennis fans and most players around the world.

Eric: And when did the first championship take place?

John: The first tournament took place in 1877 and there were a couple of hundred spectators. Today nearly half a million people go to watch the tennis and in addition, millions worldwide follow the games on television, radio and via the Internet. For many years players used to wear white on court, no other colours were allowed. This has changed today, though.

Eric: And the grass courts?

John: Well yes, it may be hard to believe but the games are still played on natural grass. Obviously a great deal of care and attention goes into getting the grass to that state of perfection.

Eric: For example?

John: For example 1 tonne of grass seed and 3 million litres of water a year... and a team of 14 groundsmen...

Eric: 14!

John: Yes, 14, but you know Wimbledon's famous grass surface can cause problems...

Eric: What sort of problems?

John: Today very few top level championships are played on grass. The world's top players just aren't used to playing on grass any more, and some top players really dislike grass.

Eric: Were grass courts more common in the past?

John: Yes, they were. Three of the four Grand Slam tournaments used to be played on grass.

Eric: I guess the one exception was the Roland Garros tournament in Paris: that's always been played on clay, right?

John: That's right, Eric! But the Australian and the U.S. Opens which were originally played on grass, have now switched to surfaces requiring less maintenance, leaving only Wimbledon with the surface on which tennis originated.

Eric: And what difference does the surface make?

John: Actually it makes a big difference, Eric. On grass courts, for example, serves can be very, very fast, over 210 kilometres per hour and the ball tends to bounce lower than on other surfaces, giving attacking players an advantage.

Eric: And the alternatives?

John: One alternative is the clay surface of the courts of Roland Garros in Paris. Here, compared with Wimbledon, the game tends to be slower and the ball bounces higher, giving the defensive players the advantage.

Eric: Fascinating. Ok, thank you John, oh... One last question, where exactly is Wimbledon?

John: Wimbledon is a pleasant, leafy suburb in South West London... Obviously, it's famous all round the world for the tennis championships that take place there every summer.

Eric: Ok! Thank you again!

John: Thank you! Goodbye!

Eric: And goodbye to you! And see you again next week for another edition of "Sports Special".

Kitchen: Wine-tasting

Nancy: Welcome again to all our viewers. Lisa, this is our last show together! I hope you've enjoyed these informal chats as much as I have.

Lisa: Of course! It's been fun for me as well!

Nancy: Now then, what are you going to talk about today?

Lisa: I've received quite a few e-mails from people who want to learn about wine-tasting. You know, it's become very trendy these days.

Nancy: Great! I wouldn't mind understanding a little more about wine myself...

Lisa: Let's begin with the right approach to wine. First of all, before drinking it, one should appreciate the taste of wine. There are three steps to correct wine-tasting: look, smell and taste.

Nancy: What should one look for?

Lisa: Colour is the first thing. Whites range from green to yellow to brown. And red ones can be pale red to deep brown.

Nancy: Is the colour of wine related to age?

Lisa: The general rule is: whites tend to darken with age. It's usually the opposite for red ones.

Nancy: Now tell me Lisa, why do people tend to swirl their wine before tasting it?

Lisa: For two reasons: to observe the body of the wine, and smell its aroma.

Nancy: Now, how do aromas of wines differ?

Lisa: Well, there are many different kinds of bouquet. For example, perfumed, spicy, smoky and toasty. Well, now it's time to taste.

Nancy: Before tasting, how should wines be poured?

Lisa: Let me show you. Still wines like this one, should be poured towards the centre of the glass. Remember that sparkling wines, on the other hand, should be poured against the side of the glass.

Nancy: Why's that?

Lisa: So the bubbles don't escape. So, now try sloshing the wine yourself, observe it carefully. Are there "good legs"?

Nancy: Legs? What do you mean?

Lisa: Can you see the droplets on the glass?

Nancy: Yes...

Lisa: Well, they indicate a thick body of the wine. Now, have a first sip, swish the wine around your mouth and give us your first impression!

Nancy: It's... How can I say? Slightly bitter? Seems like a fruity taste to me.

Lisa: You see? You've already identified two wine flavours! Now, take another sip, and see if you can taste the tannin.

Nancy: I'm not really sure...

Lisa: In the beginning it's difficult to define a wine. This is, without a doubt, a round, full-bodied wine.

Nancy: Now, I noticed you chose this glass for red wine. What are those glasses for?

Lisa: This glass, for red wine, is called a "Rhine glass". This tulip-shaped glass is for white wines. And that flute is for sparkling wines.

Nancy: And those items over there are the basic wine utensils, aren't they?

Lisa: Yes. This is a corkscrew and this is a foil cutter. Other useful objects are a drip catcher and a decanter.

Nancy: Well, I'm sure there's a myriad of things that we could say about wine, but unfortunately our time is up. Lisa, thank you for being such a great hostess.

Lisa: My pleasure.
